Just what will be done by the Park Department, which has jurisdiction over the entire Glenmoreeve improvement, has not been determined, but it is hoped to secure the active co-operation of the city police in patrolling it, though doubtless a number of Park policemen will be stationed there. Not improbably some of them will be provided with become and it is likely that a number of wheelmen will be sworn in as special policemen to look after violators of the law.

Arotter thing demanding attention will be the cleaning of the street, particularly the part which has an asphair parement. Owing to the character of the neighborhood through which Glenmore-averums it is inevitable that a large quantity of filth will be thrown into the street, and at least daily chanings will be necessary. On asphalt streets under the control of the City Works Department the street-cheaning contractor arranges for men to except them every day, and the dirt collected is carried away in small carts or wheelmarrows. Some such arrangement will have to be made in connection with the asphalted section of Glemmore-ave., and, in fact, it will doubtless be necessary to keep men donatingly at work there. If that is done the liability of articles that will puncture bleyele tires being somered.

MAPS FOR THE ELECTIONS BOARD.

The Board of Elections has just received a large number of colored ward maps for use in the com in campaign. The set consists of thirty-nine maps flying the thirty-two wards, each divided into its election districts, and the seven Senate districts. The diagrams are the work of George Sandhusen, the Board's official draughtsman, who has given hs work unusual attention, and has introduced a large number of new features, which will be ap-Peclated by all persons who have occasion to use

The ward maps are printed in waterproof colors, showing the boundaries of the districts distinctly. The boundaries of the wards are designated, and the corner numbers are given for every block in the district on each map are printed the dates for the registration of voters and the date of election. Ten of these maps will be posted in conspicuous places it sach of the election districts.

registration of voters and the date of election. Ten of these maps will be posted in conspicuous places in each of the election districts.

The Senate district maps show not only the boundaries of the Senate districts, but also the wards and Assembly districts and the Aldermapic districts. The wards are designated by district colors, and the Assembly districts by a broad red boundary line. This arrangement showing the boundaries of the Assembly districts and wards on the same map is a new idea, originated by Mr. Sandhusen.

THE MATE OF A LIGHTER REPORTED IN A CRITICAL CONDITION AS A RESULT

Charles Thompson, twenty-four years old, the mate of the lighter Kitty, lying at the end of Divi-sion-ave, was reported to the police of the Clymerst, station yesterday as being in a critical condition at his home, No. 147 Twenty-third-st., Brooklyn from injuries received on Thursday night by being beaten by four unknown men. It is feared that Thompson's skull is fractured. The assault was reported to the police by George Edmonds, captain of ported to the police by George Edmonds, captain of the lighter Bee, which is also moored to the pier. Thompson's assailants were canal boatmen. The trouble that led to the assault, it is said, grew out of a dispute as to the right of way at the pier. The lighter Kitty had been sent to the pier to take away cargoes of syrup from the Mollenhauer Sugar Refinery, while the canalboats were loaded with coal for the refinery. After receiving the beating, Thompson in some way managed to reach his home, where he became unconscious. A physician was called and said that his condition was critical. Detective Dolan, of the Clymer-st. station, was placed on the case.

KILLED BY A HORSE'S KICK.

Agnes Peters, two years old, was instantly killed yesterday afternoon by being kicked in the abdomen by a horse in her father's stable, in the rear of her home, No. 122 Noll-st. The father, Michael Peters, is a pedler, and little Agnes was the youngest of four children. It had been the habit of the child to play about the stable, and when one of the hands employed by Peters entered the stall shortly after 1 o'clock, he found the lifeless body of the girl lying near the animal's feet. It is supposed that the child touched the horse on the hind legs, and that he kicked her. The animal had been annoyed greatly by files.

COUNTY COURT. George A. Mott, a lawyer, applied to Justice Van Wyck of the Supreme Court yesterday to transfer the case against Jacob I. Shipherd, charged with interfering with an officer in the discharge of his duty, before the County Courf of Queens County. Shipherd is a lawyer living in Richmond Hill, and is well known in Queens County. On August 22 last his twenty-year-old son, Henry, in reaching the barn attached to the Shipherd house, rode over the sidewalk. About half an hour later Officer Peter Larkin called at the house and told the young man that he was under arrest for riding on the village sidewalk. Henry explained that he had to cross the sidewalk to reach the barn, but the officer was obdurate, and marched his pris-oner off to the station. The elder Shipherd overheard a part of the conversation between the officer and his son, and following the couple protested against the arrest, saying there was no use in locking up his son, as he would be in court when there was any charge preferred

In speaking to the officer Mr. Shipherd placed his hand on his arm, for which Larkin arrested him also and took him off with his son to the The next morning the son was ar raigned on a charge of riding on the sidewalk and fined $2 and the father was held for trial on a

Then Art. Mott said that he could not get the District-Attorney before Tuesday, and by that time the histice would have tried his client. Justice Van Wyck only shook his head and Mr. Mott went to the telephone. He came back later with the information that the District-Attorney expected to be present in the court this morning and would answer the application.

GATHERED ABOUT THE TOWN.

The police are still investigating the attempted burglary at the house of George Schoeneck, No. 13 Avenue A, Flatbush, which occurred early on Thursday morning. No clew has been discovered.

Annie Lambert, a seven-year-old girl, of No. 1594 Fulton-st. was knocked down by a trolley-car of the Fulton-st. line, on Thursday. She escaped with a slight scalp wound.

Mrs. Mary Dillon, forty years old, of No. 14 Statest., was crossing Third-ave, at Eighth-st, at an early hour yesterday morning, when she was knocked down by a trolley-car and her skull was fractured. Several large schools of weakfish entered Sheeps head Bay some time on Wednesday night, and fur-nished sport there yesterday and on Thursday for large crowds of anglers. Many of the fish were caught from the bridge which runs across the bay to Manhattan Beach, and large catches were also reported at Jamaica and Canarsie bays. It was thought that the heavy storm of Thursday night would spoil the sport, but a few catches were reported yesterday.

BOTH WANT TO BE TRIED AT ONCE.

Justice Van Wyck, of the Supreme Court, yester-day afternoon, granted two writs of habeus corpus on the application of John U. Shorter, on which James Mason and George Ford will be produced in court this morning and apply for their discharge from Raymond Street Jall, where they are now confined. The petition of the men alleges that they were arrested at Coney Island on September 1 and charged with being vagrants. They were taken before Justice J. Lott Nostrand and detaken before Justice J. Lott Nostrand and demanded immediate trials. The trials were refused, and against their protest the cases were adjourned until September 4, and they were remanded to jail in default of £50 bail. Yesterday they were arraigned before Justice Nostrand, and again they asked for immediate trials. Their cases were again adjourned, however, until September II and they were remanded to jail. Mason says that he is not a vagrant. He is a photographer, working at No. 256 West Thirty-second-st. New-York, and he has $500, $500 of which is in the Dime Savings Bank. Ford also declares that he is no vagrant. He says he is employed in a New-York laundry and that he has enough money to support him.

The severe windstorm which visited this part of Long Island Thursday afternoon capsized the sloop yacht Sunshine, owned by the three Prince brothers and Mr. Splegelberg, of New-York City. The yacht went ashore on Ben's Point, near Long Beach, while the crew was trying to make Greenport Harbor. They left New-Haven in the morning in a stiff breeze. As the wind increased steadily in force it was found necessary to place the boat under lower sail, which made her almost unmanazeable. After Plum Gut had been passed the boat drifted steadily in toward the shore. Finally the anchors were drapped, but they proved useless, as they would not hold. About 2 o'clock the yacht grounded on the point, where she lay in a dangerous position, threatening to zo to pieces at any minute. The unfortunate occupants of the boat leaped overboard and swam ashore, where a tent was made out of the mainsail. A sallor was at once sent to Greenport to seek aid. He walked the seven miles between the places. About 5 o'clock the United States lighthouse-tender Mistletoe. Captain Weber, having on board Colonel Ludlow. Chief Engineer of the United States Navy, passed near, and seeing the signal of distress fiving from the mast, went to their aid.
